

At the entrance to the Meysen Academy prior to visiting the classrooms

American teachers are recruited for the English as a second language program. The teaching style is mostly all interactive like what you see in this picture. Notice how there are no desks?

Picture of my 2003 visit to a school in India.